

A Clinicians Guide to Neurogenetics in Children and Families

An interactive 1-day course

When?	22nd February 2018
Where?	Wolfson College, Cambridge, UK
Who Should Go?	Paediatricians, neurologists and geneticists caring for families affected by neurogenetic disorders
What Will I Learn?	Essential understanding for the clinician of microarrays through to genome sequencing - both nuclear and mitochondrial, when dealing with families affected by these disorders in 2018 and onwards.
How Will I Learn?	A practical series of interactive lectures and workshops facilitated through internationally recognised experts within the field, including Prof Geoff Woods, Prof Lucy Raymond, Prof Patrick Chinnery, Dr Evan Reid and Dr Charlie Steward
Who is organising?	Dr Alasdair Parker apjparker@gmail.com
How Can I Book?	julie.plaza@nhs.net
How Much?	£75

We look forward to seeing you!